About Town And Country By TIMOTHEUS T.

DAVE COX was showing a fine looking boat up town Saturday morning, and Timmons learned this boat was made right here in Harrisburg.

Yep, this one and others have been made here, on North Main street in the building formerly occupied by Everybody's.

These boats are made out of fibreglass and Cox pointed out that they do the complete job on these boats except attach the outboard motor down at the place on North Main.

The boat up town was 14 feet long and would seat about nine. Other sizes can be made, however.

DOWN ON ROUTE 45 there's new activity.

Victor Mitchell's service station is being torn out for a rebuilding job and Vie is operating from a couple of trailers, a new shed and his own home.

T. P. Thompson and Son, Contractors, has the contract for the work.

And Don Wilson is building himself a root beer and sandwich stand just south of the Dairy Queen which he hopes to get open in the middle of next week.

It will be a Reed and Bell root beer stand and will serve all kinds of sandwiches and French fries, Wilson explained. He said the business will specialize in quick curb service.

I GUESS THOMAS MAHAN of Equality is shipping new potatoes to Chicago by now.

On display in Ebb's shoe store window is a potato plant brought there by Mahan's son-in-law, Vernon Edwards. This plant already has new potatoes big enough to eat.

Mr. Mahan put out his potatoes late in February.

Senate Leaders Believe Farm Bill Will Be Acceptable to President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Democrats and Republicans agreed today that they have a compromise farm bill acceptable to President Eisenhower.

It would authorize a $1,200,000 soil bank requested by Mr. Eisenhower, but makes no provision for the controversial advance payment feature the President sought.

The Senate recently vetoed a Democratic farm bill because it included a provision for 90 per cent of parity price supports and other features highly objectionable to him. The high, rigid price prop feature was left out of the new bill.

Knock Out Grazing Lands

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.), Senate leader of administration farm forces, told reporters that it is "not likely" that Mr. Eisenhower would veto the bill as approved by the committee. Committee Chairman Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) agreed.

In amending a House bill, the Senate committee went along with the administration in knocking grazing lands out of the four-year acreage reserve part of the soil bank.

The committee also left it up to Benson whether the acreage reserve program would be put into effect this year for crops already planted. He objected to the plowing under that would have been required.

The committee halved the 16 per cent of parity supports voted by the House for feed grains—barley, grain sorghums, oats and rye—this year. But acreage restrictions, including a requirement for soil bank participation, were eliminated.

As the bill now stands, the four crops would have these price supports this year: Barley, $1.01 a bushel; grain sorghums, $1.94 a hundred pounds; oats, 64 cents a bushel; and rye, $1.25 a bushel.

Increase Corn Acreage

Both the House and Senate committee bills would increase the price support for so-called non-commercial corn—that grown outside the main corn belt—from $1.21 to $1.33 a bushel. The committee voted down House acreage restrictions for this year.

Jordan said that after this much work is done, it will take a few days to get other streets ready for the oil and chips.

It was estimated that two miles will have been completed by the end of the day.

The city is buying the materials from the Franklin Asphalt Co. of Benton with Gail Denny's trucks hauling the rock from Cave-in-Rock.

Under this street program, the city is attempting to oil and chip streets not under the motor fuel tax plan. The council is earmarking $2,000 monthly from the sales tax allotments for the work and early plans were to improve about 10 miles of streets this year and about the same amount next year.

Parity prices of corn, peanuts and wheat would be frozen at present levels for two years. This would prevent scheduled decreases in the transitional period of shifting from the old to a new parity formula.

Begin Work On Streets with Sales Tax Funds

The city's street improvement program that will be paid out of the city sales tax got under way yesterday.

The work started out fast. During the day the following stretches of street were oiled and chipped:

About a mile in Gaskins City, including Club from Sloan to National, National from Club to Michigan and a block on Michigan, which is the city bus route; and a block on State street from the end of the concrete pavement to the city limits on the country club road.

Areas of Dayton and Ford street which were not blacktopped; Midkiff from Main to Graner; Webster from Virginia north to the city limits.

Sned Jordan, superintendent of city streets, said that 1.56 miles of street were completed yesterday.

This morning workmen completed Elm street from McKinley west to Denison, the street that runs north and south through the Darnell grocery.

Increase Corn Acreage

Set also for improvement today was Church street from McKinley west to Denison, the street that runs north and south through the town park.

Smoking Pot on Stove Brings Fire Department

The boiling beef quit boiling and burned yesterday afternoon at the Bob Ryan apartment above Western Auto on South Main street.

The fire department was called by Western Auto employees at 2:35 when smoke was seen coming out of the apartment windows. Firemen went up the stairs to the smoke-filled rooms and Fire Chief L. G. Martin came down with a flaming pot.

Ryan, who was on the court house square at the time, came to the scene and told Martin he had put some boiling beef on the stove to cook and had gone off, forgetting about it.

The boys laid it on cool and strong with "Mahogany Hall Stomp" and the girl in blue tapped away in cool delight.

Dulles Warns Against Cuts In Foreign Aid

Russell Malan, superintendent of the Harrisburg city schools, today announced that four faculty members have turned in their resignations effective at the end of the school term.

The past presidents were introduced to the large crowd in attendance by Mrs. Wendell Bramlett, district director, who expressed the appreciation of all for the fine work accomplished by the Horace Mann unit under the direction of its presidents and other officers. Mrs. Evans responded for the 1955-56 school year.

Mrs. Evans responded for the 1955-56 school year.

He said President Eisenhower and the entire administration regard this program as vital to the security of the nation and the entire free world.

Dulles told the House Foreign Affairs Committee that this country's friends represent a bulwark against the advance of communism.

"It would be reckless not to help these countries to help themselves and at the same time to help us," Dulles said.

Dulles said peace prospects have improved, but "nothing has yet happened which, in my opinion, would make it prudent to terminate or curtail the present program."

He defended the program amid growing indications that the committee will recommend sharp slashes in the administration's proposal. In advance of today's hearing, informed sources reported that the administration might be willing to accept a cut of 50 to 200 million dollars—but nothing more.

Dulles told the committee the recent change of Soviet tactics "seemed to increase the chance of peace and to suggest the possibility that Soviet Russia might ultimately have a government responsive to an educated public opinion and reflecting a code of conduct such as is accepted by other civilized nations."

Dulles said U.S. allies help protect this country's security with their own troops and economic activity. But, he said, "the governments of these impoverished countries cannot maintain their present forces without some economic help also."

'Satchmo' Plays It Cool as Princess Margaret Attends Jazz Concert

LONDON (UPI) — Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong looked beyond the footlights at a pretty English girl in a blue dress seated in the audience.

"I want to play something special for an old flame, boys. Let's lay it on for the princess," he rasped.

The boys laid it on cool and strong with "Mahogany Hall Stomp" and the girl in blue tapped away in cool delight.

She was Princess Margaret and she proved to the few fans who saw her at the Armstrong jazz concert Wednesday night that she was not only Europe's prettiest princess—but the neatest, as well.

The princess tapped her feet and clapped at the right choruses as the jazz king wowed 9,000 cats at Empress Hall. It was her first big jazz concert.

The princess was so thick she did not go backstage to meet Armstrong after the concert. She sent one of her friends to tell him she enjoyed his music.

Satchmo, a towel wrapped around his dark head to soak up the glistening sweat, replied: "You tell the princess that I sure enjoyed playing for her."

Vote New Excise Tax Levies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee tentatively voted today to levy new taxes on tubeless tires, record players, and wire and tape recorders.

Working on a proposed revision of the excise tax law, the committee tentatively approved:

1. A new tax of 10 per cent of the manufacturers' sale price on record players, and tape and wire recorders.

2. Repeal of the 5 per cent tax on gas-operated incinerator-type disposal units.

The tax on tires now is 5 cents a pound. The proposed additional 1-cent tax on tubeless tires would boost the levy on these tires to 6 cents.

But the pending big pay-as-you-go highway bill, if enacted, would raise the tax rate to 8 cents on regular tires and 9 cents on tubeless tires. The new tax proposed today would not be in addition to that differential.

3. Repeal of excise taxes on waxes and floor polishers. The tax amounts to 5 per cent of the manufacturers' sale price. Repeal was recommended because vacuum cleaner attachments suitable for waxing and polishing floors are in competition with these products and are not subject to tax.

4. Repeal of the 5 per cent tax on gas-operated incinerator-type disposal units.

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — Police dispersed a throng of panty raiders on the Louisiana State University campus Wednesday night while scantly clad coeds cavorted on dormitory balconies.

The disgruntled men students, retreating without a single souvenir, threw up brick barrage that slightly injured one policeman. About 50 students were rounded up and hauled off to police headquarters for brief sojourns.

District VFW, Auxiliary Officers Elected

Twenty-two Veterans of Foreign War posts in southern Illinois met in Golconda Saturday and Sunday, May 5-6 for the annual convention of the 13th District, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

One of the highlights of the two-day convention was the memorial service Sunday morning in the Golconda Junior high school building. Rev. K. O. Schaffer, Danville, Chaplain of the Department of Illinois, gave the Memorial address.

Chaplain Schaffer spoke on the four loyalties—1. Loyalty to God, 2. Loyalty to the nation, 3. Loyalty to departed comrades and their dependents, 4. Loyalty to yourself.

William Bolig, Chicago, Department quartermaster, spoke on the meaning of the Poppy and encouraged all VFW Posts and Auxiliaries to promote the poppy sales as proceeds go to help those hospitalized and their families.

During the business session officers were elected for both the VFW and auxiliaries. VFW officers: Commander, Kenneth Childers, Herrin; senior vice commander, Harold Dudley, Anna; junior vice commander, James Perry, West Frankfort; quartermaster, Quentin Bowers, Harrisburg; 3-year trustee, Hollie Stout, Harrisburg.

Auxiliary officers: President, Imogene Eaton, Carbondale; senior vice president, Ava Moore, Herrin; junior vice commander, Juanita Moore, Marion; Chaplain, Inez Handley, Herrin; conductor, Violet Crawshaw, Carbondale; Treasurer, Ann Stout, Harrisburg, for third consecutive year.

The convention opened Saturday night with a dance in the VFW home and dinner was served Sunday noon with the newly organized VFW Auxiliary of Golconda. Attending from Harrisburg were Commander Charlie Shanks and Mrs. Shanks, Mr. and Mrs. Hollie Stout, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Moore, Mr. and Mrs. George Schalasky, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hancock, Mrs. Hazel Jones, Mrs. Gertrude White, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Boots, Mr. and Mrs. Charl Schenbro, John Beal, Alvin Short, Bob Hull, Charles Lane, Ralph Cusic, "Bones" Morse and "Buck" Norman.

At one time after the triumphant tour of Bulgaria and Khrushchev through India, Burma, and the Middle East, various U. S. ambassadors urged that a top-level American tour those countries to counteract the Soviet trip. Mr. Truman's name was mentioned among the possible envoys, but the suggestion never got beyond the State Department which knew how Truman was regarded in the White House.

Secretary of State Dulles took the good will trip to India and Pakistan instead, but was not invited to Burma. He angled for an invitation, but Premier U Nu did not extend one.

IKE AT POTSDAM

Background of the Eisenhower resentment against Truman goes back to the 1952 presidential campaign when Truman delivered a blast against Eisenhower for being as much to blame as anyone else for the Russian corridor around the city of Berlin. Truman pointed out that Eisenhower had been his chief military adviser at Potsdam, had assented to the Berlin agreement, therefore should not criticize the Democrats for its terms.

Camel inauguration day, Jan. 20, when the President and the President-elect ride to the capitol together for the swearing in ceremony. Here the first hint of Eisenhower bitterness cropped out. As President Truman stood in the White House front hall waiting for the President-elect, Eisenhower drove up to the front door but did not get out of the car as is customary, to greet the man who was still President of the United States.

Truman waited in the front hall. Finally it became apparent that Eisenhower was not going to get out of the car, so Truman went out to the car and they both drove to the capitol. They observed the amenities but that was all.

TRUMAN AND HOOVER

That spring when Truman came back to Washington for the first time, he was not invited to the White House. He remarked to friends that he had invited Herbert Hoover to the White House and told him he wanted him to consider it his second home. He also placed a White House car at Hoover's disposal.

Hoover and Truman became such good friends that Hoover asked the Gridiron Club for the privilege of speaking at one of its dinners where he paid glowing tribute to Truman. He has also helped raise money for the Truman library.

What really hurt Truman was an incident in Kansas City a year and a half ago when Eisenhower came there to dedicate the new Stockmen's building. Truman called Ike's headquarters at the Muehlbach Hotel to say he would like to call on the President to pay his respects. He explained he did not want the President to be in his home town without paying him the courtesy of a call. A presidential aide gave him an inconclusive answer. Truman called a second time, finally was told that Eisenhower's schedule was full and he could not see him.

Eisenhower has taken little pains

There's No Need For Guessing

The main reason why ground limestone or other liming materials are applied to acid soils is to make them more suitable for growing farm crops, particularly alfalfa and the clovers.

To be MOST EFFECTIVE, it is HIGHLY IMPORTANT that the LIMESTONE BE OF GOOD QUALITY. It should have a high capacity to neutralize soil acids and be FINE enough to accomplish this within a few weeks.

COLUMBIA AGRICULTURAL LIMESTONE is top quality. COLUMBIA AGRICULTURAL LIMESTONE gives you more plant food per dollar spent than any material money can buy. COLUMBIA 2200 LIMESTONE is 20% finer than 200 mesh—giving you more FINE POWDERLY LIMESTONE, which will act quicker in neutralizing soil acidity.

COLUMBIA AGRICULTURAL LIMESTONE is high in calcium with sufficient magnesium carbonate for any soil. Let:

Cressie L. Vineyard, Former Harrisburg Man, Weds in Chicago

Bouquets of mixed spring flowers banked the altar in St. John's Lutheran church where the marriage ceremony of Mrs. Margaret L. Braasch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Draffal, 305 Carlton street, Chicago, and Cressie L. Vineyard took place on Saturday, May 5. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. William Owens of Harrisburg and the late George G. Vineyard.

The Rev. A. H. Werfelmann officiated at the single ring ceremony at 6 p. m. which was attended by relatives and close friends of the couple.

The couple was attended by the bride's daughter, Miss Mary M. Braasch, and her son, Leonard F. Schmid.

With her navy and white wool suit, the bride wore navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Her pearl earrings were a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Braasch also wore a navy suit of faille and matching accessories. Her jewelry was a gold necklace and earrings and a corsage of pink gladiolas completed her costume.

Mrs. Fred Draffal wore a beige dress with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Immediately after the ceremony the wedding party went to the home of the bride's father, who was unable, because of illness to attend the wedding, and there pictures were taken of the group. The wedding dinner was served at 8 p. m. at Floyd's in Carpenterville.

At a dinner Friday evening in the home of the bride's parents, the couple presented gifts to their attendants.

The bride is employed by the Atlantic and Pacific Tea store in Elgin and Mr. Vineyard by the Marison company at South Elgin. After May 1, they will be at home at 519 Walnut avenue, deferring a wedding trip until fall.

The first executions of the 15-month-old revolt against British rule in this Mediterranean Island colony. Twenty seven British servicemen have died in the out-breaks.

Prisoners who had chanted anti-British slogans and threatened to burn down the British embassy were hanged yesterday when the execution took place. The gallows was a massive affair and the noise of the falling trapdoor could be heard throughout the city.

Karassis' mother, Mrs. Panayiotis Karassis, who had waited outside the prison all through the night, was dull with grief when she knew her son was dead. She had appealed to Queen Elizabeth II for clemency but there was no reply.

Tension such as this island has never known settled over Nicosia since the British left the city. First word of the executions was carried by early morning milkmen and given in whispers by news vendors and workers.

DULLES REQUEST TO DELAY EXECUTIONS REJECTED LONDON 10—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has demanded Britain delay the execution of two Greek anti-priest extremists today and has released the Foreign Office announced.

An official spokesman said Dulles had asked Britain to postpone the hangings during his meeting with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd at Paris last week.

Not On Sunday
BOSTON 10—The Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs called today for more dignified funerals.

Some 1,500 delegates to the group's annual convention adopted a resolution making that observance the date for both political parties Wednesday.

State Sen. Lillian E. Schlagel, of Elgin, is the sponsor of the resolution.

"We are to save our republic, not ourselves," she said. "The senator said in 28 other nations where women have the right to vote, they have more seats in national legislatures than here.

W. C. Curtis, 78, former resident of Galatia, died Saturday.

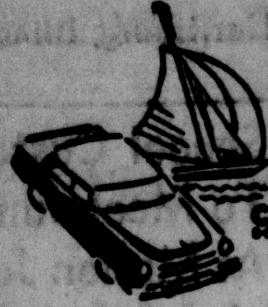

The body is in the Courtney funeral home. Galatia is to be taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Claude Hefflin, west of Galatia this afternoon.

Services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Methodist church in Galatia conducted by Rev. George Davis pastor of the Northern Baptist church of West Frankfort, assisted by Rev. Max Hudson of Galatia. Interment will be in Webster Cemetery.

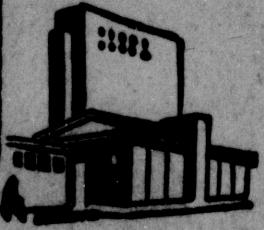

He is survived by his wife, Catherine, and the following children: Mrs. Freda Hefflin of Galatia; Mrs. Maudie, Mrs. Vickie Thomas, of Pittsburg, Mrs. Irene Lange, West Frankfort; Mrs. Vernon Miller, West Frankfort; Arthur Glavin and Ralph Dale Curtis.

Cardinals No
Patsies for
Left-HandersBy STAN MOCKLER
United Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—The St. Louis Cardinals did not get left at the post this year mainly because they are no longer patsies for left-handed pitchers.

This news is a bit slow to get around and the opposing managers to date still think so up there with thoughts when the Redbirds are on the agenda.

In their first 18 games, the Cards faced 10 lefties to 8 right-handers—a heavy percentage when the ratio on league staffs is weighed about 70-30 percent in favor of the right-handers.

Of the starting part-timers, only one, Joe Nuxhall of the Cincinnati Redlegs, stayed all the way. And they beat him.

Bats Beat Bugaboos

The St. Louis club, fortified by big bats on the right side in the hands of Ken Boyer, Bill Sarni and more recently, Rip Repuski, has demolished some of its old bugaboos in climbing to the top of the standings.

They have been roughed on the classiest of the lot, Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves. Spahn, in his first appearance at St. Louis, was knocked out in a game his mates later won.

Unconvinced, he came back in relief the very next day and was again clobbered. He was not charged with the loss but was not so lucky when he faced the Cards at Milwaukee, bowing in a pitching duel, 2-0.

The Pittsburgh Pirates' Lino Dinoso, who was 4-6 overall but 3-1 against St. Louis last year, was knocked back to the minors by the Cards in his only 36 effort. Donoso Falls Test

Perhaps it's putting it too strong to say he was knocked back, since it was a squeeze play bunt that beat him. But the Pirates evidently felt that if Donoso could not beat St. Louis they could not use him.

The Birds used the Donoso treatment against another nemesis—the New York Giants' Wendy McCall, who had a 6-5 record last year, was 4-0 against the Cards. He stopped the St. Louis long ball hitters all right but was yanked when they loaded the bases on a walk and two safe bunts.

He was charged with the 6-3 loss although he was in front, 3-1, when he departed.

Don Liddle, also of the Giants, Chuck Templeton of the Brooklyn Dodgers, Pat Scanlebury of the Redlegs and Chet Nichols of the Braves are others who learned that it is no longer enough to throw from the first base side against the Cards.

Strangely enough, an American League castoff, the Braves' Lou Sleater, holds the only left-handed decision over the bedeviled St. Louis.

But, if they can believe the new and pardonably chesty Cards, that one was an accident.

Eldorado Enters
10 in District
Meet at Carbondale

Ten Eldorado high school track and field men will be entered in the district meet, to be held at Carbondale, Coach Al Adams has announced.

He has entered the following: Lindell Lovellette, shot and discus; Romeo Stroke, high and low hurdles; Bob Watson and Leonard Willis, mile run; Roscoe Wood and Frank Willis, half mile; Ben Dempsey, low hurdles, 220-yard dash, broad jump; 880-yard and mile relay teams, with Jack Klafer, Richard Overton, Lester Guay and Ben Dempsey.

Dempsey will have to be scratched from some events, due to limitations placed on number of events in which a performer may participate. However, he has shown well in all the events mentioned and will not be scratched until later.

Coaches of schools planning to participate in the district meet were in Carbondale Tuesday evening, to discuss the meet, complete scratches as much as possible and set up heat races in the various running events.

Adams states this is the first time the coaches have been called to such a meeting, with heats being completed by officials of the meet in years past.

Charles Strausz will be the head official.

Preliminaries are scheduled to start at 2 p. m. Friday, with the championships in both the shot and discus also to be completed during the afternoon. All other finals are carded for Friday evening.

The meet will be held at the SIU stadium.

Landy Arrives to Compete in West Coast Relays

FRESNO, Calif. (UPI)—Modest John Landy, the Australian who cracks the once-impossible four-minute barrier nearly every time he runs the mile, landed here to day to compete in the West Coast Relays Saturday.

Bullhead fishing is also good at Crab Orchard.

The Carbonado Peithmans, Albert and Irvin, caught a dozen bass at Crab Orchard during the week.

Little Grassy was giving fisherman good to excellent results, with deep running lures, primarily the Helldiver, still doing the job. Crappie fishing is only fair at Little Grassy. Harvey Price of St. Louis notched the week's best haul, five bass weighing a total of 25 and three-quarters. The biggest one went seven pounds.

Whether or not bluegill and bass results will continue to improve at Lake Glendale this year is a question which interests the Illinois Natural History Survey and various freshwater fans in the Dixon Springs area.

Bass fishing improved greatly last year, with a total of 93 taken in 1,700 recorded trips. Worm fishermen averaged nearly three bluegill per trip last year, down somewhat from 1954. The lake yielded 1,931 pounds of bluegill in 1954 and 1,243 pounds last season.

Walleye bass and green sunfish account for the rest of Glendale's fish population.

Biggest fish to come out of Glendale lake this season is a seven-pound six-ounce largemouth caught by Josh Poole, of Alton. Another good catch was chalked up by G. H. Wiggins, Benton, and George Yocum, West Frankfort, who pulled 100 pounds of crappie out of the Cache River in three hours of fishing.

Among other April oddities on the fishing front was the emergence on the hook of a surprised Kaskaskia River fisherman, of a walleyed pike.

New Programs Scheduled for TV This Fall

Lawrence Welk to Have a Second One-Hour Program

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (AP)—This is the time of year when many sponsors must decide whether to renew their TV programs or sink them to the bottom of their channels.

Next fall, for example, you'll see such new entries on TV as a 60-minute Herb Shriner show and a second one-hour Lawrence Welk show. Also, programs starring Ray Bolger and Tennessee Ernie Ford.

But the chances are you won't be seeing "I Remember Mama," "Our Miss Brooks," "Stage Show" or "Ethel and Albert."

To some viewers, a sponsor's decision to yank a favorite show off the air may seem capricious, but according to Slocum (Buzz) Chapin, vice president in charge of sales at ABC-TV, sponsors are rarely governed by whim.

"The old business about the sponsor's wife running the show is pretty much a gag," says Chapin. "Even in the old days, it wasn't really true."

Chapin said there are two principal reasons for a show being axed.

"The first one is the obvious one," he said. "When a show is launched and doesn't live up to expectations, it's usually taken off the air."

The second big reason is when a sponsor gets in trouble with the budget—maybe his business conditions change, maybe his costs go up."

There are other reasons, too, for a sponsor's pull-out, said Chapin. "Ethel and Albert," a situation comedy of occasional point and charm, will be yanked off ABC-TV because its sponsor, a cereal, wants to reach kids instead of adults.

Strangely enough, said Chapin, sponsors don't always care if their shows have high ratings. Often, an advertiser will feel satisfied if a low-budgeted show is reaching a select audience—the kind that might buy his product.

"The important thing about sponsorship," said Chapin, "is that the sponsor wants to sell his product. If the program is doing the job, it'll stay on."

"I know one sponsor who hates his own show. It's very popular, but he can't stand it. But it's doing the job. And as he puts it: 'If I don't like it, nobody's going to force me to listen!'"

Soil Conservation Work in County Through Assistance of SCS Staff

By Tom Morgan,
Farm Planner

This has been a right busy spring for the SCS staff while giving assistance to farmers with conservation work on their farms.

Let's see who has done some conservation work recently and what they have done.

Out east of Harrisburg, L. L. WALLS, TOM BARTON, and SIMON SUTTON have put in several strings of tile. HENRY FOWLER, north of Eldorado, has also completed a tile line. On these four farms there have been 11,000 linear feet of tile put in.

SIMON SUTTON and HENRY FOWLER have also put in a total of four tile outlets where the tile empty into an outlet ditch.

BEN DAVIS, on his farm in Mountain township, DENISIUS DUFFEE, north of Harrisburg, and Henry and WILBURN FOWLER have completed digging a total of 3,200 linear feet of open drainage ditches. These ditches will benefit a total of 120 acres of farm land on these three farms. On the FOWLER farm a corrugated pipe was placed at the end of the field where it empties into a deeper outlet ditch so as to prevent the field ditch from cutting too deep.

EWELL HARRIS, at Galatia, has started a drop box and pipe outlet to prevent a gully from cutting back in to his field where the water from the field falls over the bank of a deeper outlet ditch.

BOB ALVEY and LOWELL WISE, in the Cottage community, H. H. LESLEY and EWELL HARRIS, in the Galatia community, CHARLES COX, of Rector township, EVERITT GATES, and TISON & FALL, Harrisburg, have all put in diversion terraces on their farms.

The total length of all diversions constructed on these six farms is 3,750 linear feet. The diversions have been put in to do different jobs of controlling water runoff on these farms. Some are to prevent water from a sloping field from running over a bottom cropland field located at the foot of the slope. Others are built to bring additional watershed into a farm pond. Two were built to prevent water falling in a barn lot from running into a pond which is allowed to do so would result in unclean water for the livestock.

CHARLES COX has become the first district cooperator to complete a farm pond in 1956.

RAYMOND OXFORD, Mountain township, BOBBIE WISE, north of Muddy, TISON & HALL, BEN DAVIS, and CHARLES COX have completed shaping 5½ acres of grass waterways. Corn will be broadcast in these waterways this spring. The corn will be removed in August and grass will be seeded in the waterways.

KENNETH S. HOWELL, ROGER and OLIVER WILLIAMS, JOHN H. HEATHMAN, JESS HEATHMAN, ED BLACKMAN and REGNOLD RIEGEL have completed a conservation farming plan for their farms with my assistance. I am in the process of working with twenty other farmers in assisting them in completing conservation plans for their farms. These will be completed in May and June.

There are many other farmers planning to establish some type of conservation practices on their farms during the remainder of the year.

The above men named are all cooperators with the Saline County Soil Conservation District and the work they are doing is with the assistance of "Shorty" Reeder and myself working with the local district as representatives of the Soil Conservation Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

AEC Says Russia 'Got the Jump' on A-Research Device

Freshmen Will Register Friday At Carrier Mills

Freshman registration will be held Friday, May 11, at 1 p.m. at the Carrier Mills Community high school, Principal Warren G. Jennings announced today. All students who will enroll in September as freshmen are to attend the preliminary registration Friday. They have all received curricula outlines for the 1956-57 school year which are to be examined by their parents and a decision made concerning courses in which to enroll.

Mr. Jennings stated that approximately 86 freshmen will enroll next September which will increase the total high school enrollment to 230 for 1956-57.

According to school officials students graduating from the 8th grade who will enroll in C. M. C. H. S. will be as follows:

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russians "got the jump" and soon will have a lead over the United States in an important phase of basic nuclear research, the Congressional Atomic Energy committee disclosed today.

Atomic Energy Commissioner Willard F. Libby gave the Senate-House Atomic Energy committee a report on the situation in mid-February. His testimony, later screened for security purposes, was made public in printed form today.

The substance of Libby's testimony was that the AEC now is planning to build an atomic research device which Russia already is constructing. The Soviet device, Libby said, will give Russia, for a couple of years, the most powerful equipment existing for research in the field of very high energy.

"I am afraid they have got the jump on us a little bit. I am afraid that is it," Libby told the committee.

The research equipment is a 10-to-12 billion electron-volt proton accelerator—a sort of super atom smasher. Libby said the energy region which would be explored by the accelerator "seems to offer great promise for high energy physics research."

Mike looked down the street. He saw an automobile roll to a stop beside the two Gestapo men. One of them pointed to the tram and the car began to follow a block behind him.

The tram slowed for a stop. Mike jumped off and sprinted into a dark street.

Mike plunged into the pitch-black alley and ran the length of it—only to hit a dead end. A 15-foot brick wall sealed his exit. He leaped up, but his hand fell short of the top. On the other side of the wall came the sound of barking dogs.

Mike squinted desperately into the darkness. The backs of houses faced him on both sides. A few yellow lights glinted through drawn shades. The putrid smell of garbage reached his nostrils.

A rat darted past him over the slimy cobblestones.

He flattened against the wall and drew his pistol.

At the far end of the alley he heard car doors slam, then footsteps and half-whispered orders.

Mike slunk along the wall and along some low fences past several houses. The beam of a flashlight darted into the alley. He stumbled over a fence and crouched behind it. At the end of the alley he heard another car screech to a stop.

"Is someone out there?" a voice called behind Mike.

He spun around. The back door to a house was opened.

"Englezos," he croaked.

"In here, quickly," the voice answered.

The door shut behind him. Mike fell against it panting and dizzy. A woman stood before him. "Follow me," she said.

They turned into a long hallway. She snatched a door open. Mike reeled into the room. "Stay here," the woman said. "I will return in a few minutes."

He stiffened at the sound of laughter and talk in the hallway. One voice was that of a German, the other a Greek woman's.

There was a soft tap on his door and it was opened. The woman stepped in quickly and bolted it behind her. "Gestapo are all over the street," she said. "They are throwing a ring around the entire neighborhood."

Mike stood up and wiped the sweat from his face. "You can put your pistol away. You will be safe here."

He watched her walk to the chaise lounge and stretch out on it. She was young, in her mid-twenties, and not without some beauty. She smiled at Mike. "My name is Ketty," she said.

"You're very sweet, Ketty. I won't forget this."

"It is nice talking to an Englezos again. It was good the short time they were here. I have a little girl, you know."

Mike peeled off a million drachmas from his roll.

"Oh, no!" Ketty protested. "I did not mean that. I would not take money from you."

"Don't argue." He put the money on the dresser.

"You are very nice. What is your name?"

"Jay."

"That is what I like about the Englezos. Their names are so simple."

Their conversation stopped as a German argued with a girl outside the door.

"Dogs—dogs—always arguing. There is some wine in the stand. Pour yourself a glass."

"I've had enough to drink."

She walked over to him and smiled. "You are a nice man, Jay."

A staccato knock on the door. Ketty opened it a crack and held a whispered conversation with the woman on the other side. She turned to Mike. "Soldiers outside with Gestapo. They are going to search. Get into the alcove and draw the curtain. Don't move a muscle."

Mike obeyed.

In another moment he heard the door open. He heard Ketty greet a man. The man laughed and Ketty squealed in pretended delight as they moved about the

The W. M. U. night circle of the First Baptist church met Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Georgia James. Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers was leader. An interesting program was given. Those attending were Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers, Mrs. Mavis Taylor and daughter, Nancy, Mrs. Mary Heathman, Mrs. Emma Lou Adams and son, David, and the hostess, Mrs. Georgia James and son, Dennis.

Mary Ann Barger was an overnight guest of Darlene Goodson Tuesday.

Barker was an overnight guest of Darlene Goodson Tuesday.

Four a.m. The night was star-studded. Mike skirted the lemon grove on Lazarus' farm. The ground began to rise at the boundary of the field. He came to a ditch.

Mike stood frozen... Ten minutes—fifteen...

A look of rage came into his face. His hand was on his pistol. He walked slowly down the rise toward the pump house.

His foot kicked against the door and it flew open.

"Vassili! Thank God!"

Ford Resigns As Chairman Of Foundation

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Ford II resigned Tuesday as chairman of the $2,500,000,000 Ford Foundation because his "duties and obligations as president of Ford Motor Company" require full-time attention.

The board of trustees announced immediately that H. Rowan Gaither Jr., president of the foundation, had been elected to succeed Ford as chairman.

"I think you all share with me the feeling that the growing work load of the board requires that the chairmanship be held by some one able to spend full time on foundation affairs," Ford wrote in his letter of resignation to foundation trustees.

He said he would remain a member of the board and will retain a keen interest in the work of the foundation.

Gaither has been president of the foundation since February, 1953, and a member of the board of trustees since March, 1953.

Six Types of Letters To Editors are Cited

SAPULPA, Okla. — (UPI) — Contents of letters to newspaper editors are as varied as a patchwork quilt, but Ralph H. Matthews, publisher of the Sapulpa Herald, has classified them under six main headings:

1. They want to cuss out the editor.

2. They want to kill a story or have a "puff" type of story put in.

3. They want the editor to "give somebody or some condition H-4" but "don't mention my name, please."

4. They ask for information about someone whose name appeared in the paper 40 years ago.

5. They ask for a copy of the paper and enclose two cents for postage and payment.

6. They send in a news item saying that "Mrs. Smith gave birth to an infant son last week" without saying which Mrs. Smith.

OUT OUR WAY

By Williams Astronomer to Study Illuminated Clouds

IOWA CITY (UPI) — Hugh M. Johnson, University of Iowa astronomer, is making an intensive study of the illuminated clouds that are formed between the stars in the universe.

A $3,700 grant from the National Science Foundation will help finance the study.

Johnson, an assistant professor of astronomy, said the clouds he will study are made up of rare gases and dust and are illuminated by the stars near them.

He said the purpose of the study is to measure the brightness and color of the surface illumination. Most previous studies of brightness by astronomers have dealt with the stars rather than the interstellar clouds, Johnson said.

BRUSHY

Birthday celebrations have been in progress this week. Mary Margaret Small celebrated her birthday Tuesday with a dinner party at noon with her aunts, Mrs. Bedie Harris and Mrs. Walter Patterson, and a cousin, Opal Grace Patterson, attending. Saturday Miss Small, accompanied by Pat Karnes, Bessie and Minnie Harris and Ethel Leitch, picnicked at Karel park and later motored to Shawneetown and Kentucky.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. John C. Small and daughter, Mary Margaret, enjoyed a fish fry at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Small honoring the host's birthday.

Sunday a picnic at Karel park noted two more birthdays, Mrs. Maurice McConnell and daughter, Linda. Those attending other than the four celebrants were Mrs. Eugene Shea, Mrs. Joe Small, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ewell, Mrs. Maurice McConnell and baby, Brenda, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Small.

Mrs. Mary Riegel and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Drotz were Sunday dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. Dean Guye and daughter, Darlene.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Riegel were called to Harrisburg Sunday morning because of the illness of Mrs. Riegel's mother, Mrs. Moore, of Virginia street. The patient was improved by afternoon.

A singing is scheduled for Lone Oak church May 13 at 1:30 p.m. to which all singers are invited to participate.

The young people's Sunday school class will have charge of the special feature at Mt. Moriah church for Mothers Day. All mothers of the church are urged to attend. Mrs. John C. Small is the teacher of the class.

Mrs. Grover Abney led the lesson, "Take My Life and Let it Be," at the W.S.C.S. meet at the home of Mrs. Gobel Dutton Thursday afternoon. The lesson stressed each one's obligation in her own community and church. The group pledged $100 to missions. Officers for the ensuing year are as follows: President, Mrs. Clifford Knight; vice president, Mrs. David Lewis; secretary, Mrs. Mabel Bramlett; treasurer, Mrs. William Thompson Sr. The hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. W. C. Dallas, served a cold drink, ice cream and cookies at the social hour.

24 HOUR ICE SERVICE

SELF SERVICE

JUST DROP IN A COIN—G. C. Benson, manager of the Harrisburg Ice company, demonstrates how simple it is to get ice with the new self-service vendors. Four separate ice items may be purchased by vendor—large or small bags of crushed ice and 50 pound or 25 pound blocks of ice. Just drop in a coin and the ice rolls out in the holders at right. County Fairs Limited To One State Fund

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Illinois county fairs may not participate in both the State Fair and Exposition Fund and the Agricultural Premium Fund in the same calendar year, Atty. Gen. Latham Castle ruled today.

In an opinion written for Agriculture Director Stillman J. Standard, Castle said appropriations for rehabilitation of fairgrounds under the Premium Fund are based on a fiscal year starting July 1.

The Fair and Exposition Fund is based on the calendar year.

A fair may decide each year which fund it wishes to participate in.

Fifteen oil fields in Texas each produce 10,000,000 barrels, while 184 others produce more than 1,000,000 barrels, annually.

Harrisburg Ice Company Installs Self-Service Vendors for Customers

The Harrisburg Ice company has just completed a $5,000 improvement that will prove to be both efficient for the customer and economical for the management.

Self-service ice vendors have been installed to insure prompt 24-hour service. G. C. Benson, manager of Harrisburg Ice company, has announced.

There are four coin boxes and four ice delivery chutes. Large bags of ice at 40 cents, small ones at 25 cents, 50-pound blocks of ice at 40 cents and 25-pound blocks at 25 cents, may be purchased by vendor.

In addition to the 24-hour vendor service, the ice company also will offer 16-hour personal service for customers desiring ice in size or weight other than offered by vendor, or for persons unable to get out of their automobile.

"This is the latest in a long list of changes and improvements made over the years. We are constantly trying to keep abreast of the most efficient and economical operations in the ice business," Mr. Benson declared.

Ice manufacturing, once a part of the economy of practically every town, is now limited to only a few cities. "It has been a fight for survival, with demands for ice falling off every year since the war years. We now wholesale over a large territory. Our wholesale business out-of-town takes a majority of our production," Benson stated.

The cities closest to Harrisburg now engaged in the manufacture of ice, Mr. Benson said, are Cairo to the south, Mt. Carmel on the north, Herrin to the west and Morganfield, Ky., to the east.

The vending equipment is easy to operate, with complete instructions printed on the coin boxes.

The boxes will take any multiple of coins of the required amount, but will not make change. For example, 40 cents purchases a 50-pound block of ice and a quarter, dime and nickel; quarter and three nickels, four dimes, eight nickels, or any other combination that makes 40 cents will operate the vendor. And, if the customer starts on one multiple and finds he can't make the proper change, there is a push button that will release the coins.

However, once the correct total of money has been inserted the money will not be returned, as the vendor has already started to work.

There also is a button for coin release in case a bent coin has been put in the slot.

Inside the ice company building are four conveyors, containing the various ice items. When the correct money has been received by the coin boxes, mechanism starts the conveyor moving slowly until the desired ice is dumped down the chute and rolls out in the canvas holder, ready for the customer to pick up and haul away.

It's around-the-clock, prompt and convenient service.

Church Merger Movement Reverses Trend to More Numerous Protestant Bodies

By LOUIS CASSEL

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, D.C. — A growing church merger movement is gradually reversing the historic tendency of protestant Christians to split up into ever-more-numerous sects.

For centuries, Protestants have been starting new denominations to accommodate every shade of doctrinal belief. The splintering process went on until by 1954 there were some 250 separate Protestant bodies in the United States alone.

Now the pendulum seems to be swinging in the opposite direction. The emphasis is on reuniting the scattered Christian family. Instead of pinpointing their differences, leading Protestant bodies around the world are trying to stake out common ground on which to build a united church.

At present, according to a survey by the World Council of Churches, an "unprecedented" total of 28 church unions negotiations are in process. Some are aimed at the merger of two existing denominations; others would bring three or more bodies together.

Walls which were centuries a-building will not come down overnight, and many of these negotiations doubtless will drag on for years. But the fact that they are taking place is regarded by church leaders as evidence that the so-called ecumenical "drawing together" movement is beginning to bear fruit.

In the United States, the biggest merger now definitely set will bring together the Congregational Christian churches, with 1,300,000 members, and the Evangelical and Reformed churches, with 762,000 members. This union will take place on June 25, 1957. The new body will be called the United Church of Christ, and will rank as the seventh largest U. S. Protestant denomination.

Exploratory talks are continuing between the Methodist Church and the Protestant Episcopal Church, two of the largest U. S. Protestant bodies. Historically, these denominations are closely related, since Methodism originated as a protest movement within the Church of England, parent communion of the Episcopal Church.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. — Staff Sgt. Floyd H. Bach knows his airplanes.

One of a group of elementary school pupils touring the 136th Fighter-Interceptor Squadron installation asked the non-com how many rivets were used in putting together an F-94-B Starfire jet.

"Exactly 921,600," replied Sgt. Bach without a moment's hesitation as the youngsters gaped at him in amazement.

The airman, it seems, had done a little private research on the matter, figuring that someone would come up with the poser some day.

Jets to Take Part In Air Force
Exhibit at SIU

CARBONDALE, Ill.—A jet fighter plane and a bomber will be part of a special Air Force exhibit sponsored by members of the Southern Illinois University AFROTC Cadet corps in connection with Armed Forces Day ceremonies here May 19. Entertainment will include an ROTC variety show. The affair is open to the public, and special invitations have been sent to all parents of cadets.

The exhibit, a traveling display from Wright-Patterson AFB, Dayton, Ohio, will be set up in front of Old Main at the entrance to the SIU campus and will include two trailer-mounted airplanes.

In addition to seeing an F-86 jet fighter spectators will be able to walk through the wingless body of the B-29 bomber "Command Decision," the most-decorated U.S. plane of the Korean war.

The variety show, featuring members of Angel Flight—women's AFROTC auxiliary, the cadet band, the Singing Squadron, and the drill team will be held at 2 p.m. in Shryock Auditorium. If the crowd warrants, a repeat performance will be staged at 2:45 p.m.

Starting off the day's activities at 1:30 p.m. will be a special ceremony in which representatives of the Army, Navy and Air Force, as well as University and Carbondale officials, will participate.

The Air Force exhibit, which will be held over through Sunday, has been shown all over the eastern half of the country. Also scheduled for May 19 at Southern's McAndrew Stadium will be a huge scouting exhibition sponsored by the Egyptian Scout council and featuring the work of troops throughout the area.

A Man's Clothes Can Make Most of Summer

SUMMER SHIRT: Foreign influence is strong in sports shirts for summer months. This one is Mexican-inspired and can be worn Mexican style — outside the trousers or tucked inside.

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

It's that time of the year. Before another week's gone by, you should do two things—place your bets on the pennant races and take a look in your closet to see if your clothes are all set for summer.

Summer means longer days, leisure time for hobbies or just loafing, need for cooler and more comfortable clothes. This year, the factories and stores are going all out to help you enjoy your leisure hours. This, of course, is a fairly natural impulse on their part, but you might as well make the most of it.

According to most of the sportswear manufacturers, the era of the peacock male is pretty much over. Those ultra-gaudy shirts—the kind that pictured a purple tree with a silver moon and a scarlet sea—are out. Instead, this season's most popular sports shirts are more subdued in tone.

You might like some of the imported fabrics. Like the clothes the ladies have been wearing for a year or so—and men do like to follow ladies—there's a marked Oriental influence this year. There are Indian designs, Japanese prints, Balinese motifs.

The foreign influence extends to other corners of the world, too. Van Heusen's summer collection contains fabrics with names like Toulon Batiste, Caliente Chambray and Mexicali Vanelin in such designs as Trapani Stripes, Roma Checks and Zapotec Checks—in other words, both fabric and design are inspired by France, Italy, Mexico and points west.

There are new styles in hats, shoes, suits, accessories. On your head, before summer disappears, you're liable to find one of the new flat-crown straws. The flat-crown shape, picking up devotees surprisingly fast, has one great advantage—you never have to worry about putting the crease in top.

The straw hat boys figure they might as well jump on the hat wagon, so some of their output for summer is in the new shape. But there will still be plenty of the old styles around, dressed up in new fabrics, new colors, new striped and figured bands.

Shoes for summer are going lighter in weight, which is a happy event for the cement pounder. There's even an open-toed model or two to be seen, which is O.K. if your toes are beautiful. For those of us with ugly toes, there are some new woven-leather shoes, new nylon mesh insets, some with silk insets, and a brand new styling to the old-fashioned loafer.

The touch of genius extends to socks, too. For summer, some bright designer got the idea of putting a band of cool mesh across the instep, where it doesn't show but where it keeps the feet from getting too hot.

So, from your flat-crown hat to your open-toed shoes—or, more usually, from your new straw to your new loafers—this will be a comfortable summer. It's nice to know the designers have your temperature in mind.

OFF THE RACK: You can get a couple of bands for your straw hat. The idea is to have the band match, or contrast, the rest of your outfit. . . . Adam has mesh-lined, lightweight felt hats for men who prefer a felt hat to a straw for summer. . . . This will probably come as no shock to you, but men buy fewer coats than any other sex. According to a survey by the Made-to-Measure guild, a woman buys one-half a coat a year, girls get two, boys one-half and poor old Dad gets only one-quarter of a coat a year. . . . Newest tie-shape is the "tear-drop." This is slim at top and bottom and fat in the middle.

Meadowlarks, formerly hunted as game birds, are not larks at all, but actually belong to the blackbird family.

Birth of Kittens Shown on London Children's Program

LONDON, Eng.—Mrs. Tabitha Twitchett, a cat, gave birth to quadruplets on a children's television program Tuesday.

Full details of the birth of four kittens were shown, with nothing omitted, over the commercial television network.

The project was the brainchild of Stuart Gelder, joint secretary of the Blue Cross Society, to show children the miracle of life.

Mrs. Twitchett is his cat. He first had a camera crew film an original x-ray of the cat showing the kittens inside. The crew then stayed on location in Gelder's house until the kittens were born.

"We have going to show you a miracle," Gelder said in the TV commentary introducing the birth sequence to children.

Mrs. Twitchett played her part with studied unconcern, carefully licking each kitten as it was born and then feeding all four.

Asked if the network had received any complaints from mothers or others on the real life drama, a TV spokesman said:

"We have had only one telephone call about the program. It was from a little girl who wanted one of the kittens."

Summer Goal

NEWTON, Ia.—(UPI)—Mrs. Bertha Griebeling Graham said she is spending every spare minute doing her spring housecleaning and getting her garden into shape. She said she wants to get all those jobs out of the way so she can buy a television set and watch the presidential conventions this summer. Mrs. Graham is 96 years old.
